EDITORIAL

As India strides toward becoming the world's third-largest economy, this milestone is more than just a national achievement as it embodies the aspirations and relentless efforts of its citizens. This pursuit, however, is neither easy nor guaranteed. It requires the active participation of every responsible citizen, especially the youth, who hold the potential to shape the future. In today's interconnected world, the roles of consumers and producers transcend boardrooms and marketplaces, reaching into classrooms and lecture halls. Here, students are not only absorbing information but are also active participants in the economic landscape. Educational institutions bear the crucial responsibility of equipping students with the knowledge and skills needed to thrive. Therefore, fostering an understanding of consumption and production is equally essential. By integrating economic literacy into education, we can empower students as both consumers and producers, preparing them to contribute effectively to the nation's economic growth. This editorial explores the importance of nurturing economic literacy among students, emphasizing the role it plays in developing informed, responsible citizens who can contribute meaningfully to India's economic progress. By doing so, we aim to ensure that our students are not only prepared for their professional careers but are also active participants in shaping a prosperous future for India.

Students are not just passive recipients of knowledge; they are dynamic participants in economic transactions, both shaping and being shaped by the forces of consumption and production. As consumers, students make daily decisions affecting a broader economy. Whether it's choosing what to eat for lunch or deciding which smartphone to buy, they exercise consumer agency, driving demand and influencing market trends. However, many students lack the essential skills of budgeting, saving, and making informed purchasing decisions, leaving them vulnerable to financial pitfalls and exploitation.

Simultaneously, students are producers of knowledge, creativity, and innovation. Through coursework, projects, and extracurricular activities, they contribute significantly to the production of intellectual capital and societal value. From writing research papers and designing prototypes to organizing events, students engage in production processes that reflect those in the professional world. Yet, the gap between classroom learning and real-world application often hinders their ability to transform academic skills into practical outcomes.

To address these challenges, educational institutions must prioritize the integration of economic literacy into their curricula. By providing students with a solid foundation in economics, financial literacy, and entrepreneurship, colleges can empower them to navigate the complexities of the modern economy as informed consumers and proactive producers. This involves incorporating real-world case studies, interactive simulations, and hands-on experiences to bridge the gap between theory and practice.

Educators play a crucial role in fostering a culture of critical thinking, ethical decision-making, and responsible citizenship among students. By encouraging open dialogue about the ethical implications of consumption and production, educators can instill values of sustainability, social responsibility, and global citizenship. Moreover, by supporting student-led entrepreneurial ventures through mentorship, schools can cultivate a spirit of innovation and enterprise, preparing students for success in an ever-evolving economic landscape.

Collaboration with industry partners, government agencies, and community organizations is also vital. Such partnerships can provide students with valuable opportunities for experiential learning and real-world engagement. Internships, apprenticeships, and industry partnerships offer students firsthand exposure to the dynamics of consumption and production, enabling them to apply their academic knowledge in practical settings and gain insights into career pathways and industry trends.

In conclusion, empowering students as both consumers and producers is essential for nurturing economic literacy, fostering responsible citizenship, and preparing the next generation for success in an increasingly complex and interconnected world. By integrating economic education into curricula, fostering a culture of critical inquiry, and providing opportunities for real-world engagement, educational institutions can equip students with the knowledge, skills, and values necessary to thrive as active participants in the global economy. As we invest in the future of our students, let us also invest in their capacity to consume wisely, produce responsibly, and contribute meaningfully to society.

Chairman - Secretary's Message

My dear beloved associates of our prestigious
S.T.Hindu College, greetings to you all.

Once again I am filled with pride and happiness and express my gratitude to God Almighty for listening to our prayers, by helping us come a full circle in this year also with utmost success in whatever activities we touch upon. It has indeed been an eventful year replete with a plethora of multi-various activities and events to celebrate the spirit of acquiring good recognition from the NAAC.

Our sincere attempts in renovating the buildings, lifting the ambience to be cozy, providing all the required gadgets to the laboratory of all the science departments, furnishing all the departments to the fulfilment of the faculties, establishing Digital Learning Centre, and decorating our athenaeum gorgeously for our students to sit and read for hours together comfortably without any strain, are always being recognized as the embodiments of the substantial work done.

I applaud all our faculties who have stood behind our expectations with admirable performances, as well as the able guidance and supervision of our Principal Dr.T.M.Padmanabhan as the Chairman, and Dr. K. Pazhanikumar as the Coordinator of the IQAC and all the collaborators who worked heart and soul for achieving our target in the NAAC .

The unique blend of academics, co-curricular activities and value education imparted at our college continue to set it apart from the crowd.

It remains my humble wish our South Travancore Hindu College continues to shine as a Light house of goodness, truthfulness , that in addition to the academics, the young ones who pass through its corridors may become caring, productive and responsible citizens and future leaders of the country.

I pray our College Principle Deity Lord Vinayaka showers each one of us with His divine grace and blessings and that our college continues to grow in faith and integrity for providing knowledge and wisdom.

May God bless us all.

ANNUAL REPORT 2023-2024

Happiness keeps you sweet,
Trials keep you strong,
Sorrows keep you human,
Failures keep you humble,
Success keeps you glowing,
But only God keeps you going!

Yes, indeed, God alone keeps us going and growing.

It is not by our might, knowledge and wisdom that our Institution has grown in all realms by leaps and bounds. That we have moved several rungs up on the ladder of excellence is only by the singular and extraordinary graces of God. Invoking the blessings of the presiding deity of our Institution Lord Vinayaga, I would like to present the Annual Report for the academic year 2023-2024.

Most respected Chairman-Secretary Dr. A. Nagarajan, distinguished Chief Guest Dr. V. Narayanan, Director of Liquid Propulsion Systems Centre (LPSC), Trivandrum, honourable Guest Mr. B. Sankar Madaswamy, Manager HRDD, ISRO Bangalore, Vice-Chairman Sri. S. Gopalan, Secretary Sri M. Krishna Pillai, Joint Secretary Sri. V. Nagarajan, Treasurer Sri. K. M. Kumaraswamy, Members of the Board, Shareholders, Dr. B. Sivagami, Director, Self-Supporting Courses, all the Invitees, Learned Heads and staff of all the Departments, Office Superintendent Ms. B. Valliammal, all supporting staff, Dr. B. Kumari Asha, Principal, S.T. Hindu College of Education, dear parents, Electronic and Print Media friends, well-wishers and my loving students, welcome to the 72nd College Day celebrations.

I am greatly obliged to our Chairman-Secretary Dr. A. Nagarajan, and all the members of the Management for the precious opportunity given to serve this prestigious Institution as its Principal. Upon assuming office as the Principal on May 2, 2023, I was deeply touched by your warm wishes. In accordance with your wishes, the academic year 2023-2024 has been a remarkably productive with numerous events on campus. Today, I am able to realise the significance of your inspiring words, "how much we work is more important than how long we work". I thank you all for your genuine wishes.

I am of the firm conviction that there is no substitute for a dedicated teacher. The greatness of an Institution is known by its teachers. I am very proud to tell you that I am fortunate enough to have a team of teachers immersed in the teaching-learning process. These teachers only make our institution "A Home away from Home"

Endued with the qualities of head and heart, our teachers, like the medieval alchemists, have involved themselves in the process of transmuting ordinary students into excellent students. But the process of transformation is not an easy one. Without healthy relation between the teachers and the students, excellence is impossible in the field of education. The healthy relation between the teachers and the students in our Institution is similar to that between Alexander and his stallion of ancient Greece.

Alexander the Great's ability to control his horse named Bucephalus was legendary. According to the legend, when the horse was first brought to him, it appeared wild and uncontrollable, and no one could mount it. Alexander noticed that Bucephalus (horse) was apparently afraid of his own shadow, so he turned the horse toward the sun so that it couldn't see its shadow. With this simple adjustment, Alexander was able to successfully mount and ride Bucephalus, demonstrating his exceptional skill and understanding of horses. This event marked the beginning of a strong bond between Alexander and Bucephalus, and the horse became Alexander's trusted companion throughout his conquests.

The tale of Alexander and Bucephalus illustrates the close relationship between the teachers and the students. Our students, too, at times, like the wild horse, become restless as they lack direction in their lives. They feel insecure about their future. Instead of looking at the positive sides of life, they look at the negative sides of life. Our compassionate teachers, in consonance with the vision of our institution - material, moral, and cultural advancement - embark on the venture of moulding the younger generation to face the harsh realities of life.

To make our education complete, our teachers take efforts to send out students who, in the words of Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, "are not only learned but whose hearts are full of compassion for suffering humanity." To help our students evolve as complete and well-balanced human beings, they are encouraged to take full advantage of all the facilities offered by our institution. Moreover, it is the duty of the teachers to impart knowledge to them. No doubt teachers are, as Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam has stressed "the child's window to learning and knowledge."

As long as the rapport between the teachers and the students continues, just as Professor Veera had in the novel Five Point Someone by Chetan Bhagat, the myth of Alexander and Bucephalus will continue. Thanking and congratulating all, let me seize this blessed occasion to highlight the prodigious achievements of the academic year 2023-24.

Other Achievements

NAAC

Special mention must be made concerning the arduous task we undertook in connection with the third cycle of NAAC accreditation. During our preparation, we had to encounter several deterrent factors like technical hitches and Covid Pandemic, lapse of time, and many other challenges.

Yet nothing could deter us from reaching our goal. With your cooperation, our college submitted the Self-Study Report on 29.07.2023. Subsequently the NAAC Peer-Team visited our Institution on 21st and 22nd Feb, 2024. Your commitment, invaluable contribution and hard work alone enabled to secure a commandable grade 'B++'. If I embarked on mentioning the names of those who contributed to this achievement, the list would be a long one, and if I mentioned some and not others, the selection would be an invidious one. There are, nevertheless, a few names the omission of which would not be fair. In this connection, I would like to thank Dr. A. Nagarajan, Chairman-Secretary, backed by his dynamic team of management, brought a great vigour and initiative without which the third cycle of accreditation might not have materialized in the month of February. Next, I owe a lot to the IQAC Co-ordinator Dr. K. Pazhanikumar and his team, all the heads of the departments and teaching staff of both regular and self-supporting stream, Dr. B. Sivagami, Director Self-Supporting Courses, Office Superintendent Mrs. B. Valliammal and all supporting staff, Mr. V. Gandhinathan and Association staff, and students of our institution for their dedicated participation throughout the accreditation process.

CONCLUSION

By the grace of God, the magnanimity of the Management and the continuance of our perseverance, our Institution is marching forward to an enviable height. Excellence is no easy task. It is always the result of high intention, sincere effort, intelligent execution, and the sustained and collaborative efforts of all the stakeholders.

Respected members of the Management, whenever we approach you seeking assistance for any constructive work, we get the countenance from you without any hesitation. Moreover, your zest for excellence has never let us settle for the mediocrity. Your valuable moral support in time of necessity has made us impervious to uncharitable imputations. Hence an additional measure of thanks is due to all the members of the Management in general and our Chairman Dr. A. Nagarajan in particular.

Dear Teachers, I thank you all for your phenomenal contribution in the teaching - learning process, and the rapport you have had with your students. You have worked with the passion that behind you "there stands the home". A teacher's influence is infectious. To lead our children to great success, role models are necessary. You are the role models for our students. An institution is a microcosm of the macrocosm. Therefore, I request you to continue to provide our students with all the possible opportunities to help them become useful citizens of this nation. Thank you, teachers.

Beloved Supporting Staff, as we reflect on the growth and success of our students, your dedication and hard work has played a crucial role in facilitating their academic journey. Your commitment has ensured a smooth administration process, and it is through your diligent work behind the scenes that our students are able to flourish and thrive in their educational pursuits. Your contributions in managing various administrative tasks, providing support services, and maintaining a conducive learning environment are essential to the overall development of our students. I take this moment to express my deepest gratitude for your tireless efforts.

Loving Students, life is like a combination lock. It can be opened by turning to the right combination of numbers. Similarly, you can discover your life's purpose by implementing the proper combination of thoughts, actions and attitudes. Transition from a static character to a dynamic character is not possible without the participation in all the activities that the college offers you. The experience you gain from the involvement in different activities will help you have a competitive edge over others wherever you go. Do not be caught in the trammels of narrow confinements that desist you from realising your vision. May your knowledge explosion take our nation to the position of the third largest economy very soon. Thank you very much. May God bless you all!
